

News From Your TOWN HALL

There will be an election on September 12th when two Commissioners jobs will be filled—that of Commissioner Van Landingham and McDonald.

In the last election we were fortunate in having a number of candidates who believed in advertising and the paper didn't do so bad.

If anybody's going to run against these gentlemen, be sure to appropriate some for advertising, cause we need the business. It's summertime, you know. If ambitious politicians can't get up nerve enough to run, they might as well prepare and pay for a few complimentary ads for the incumbents.

If you hear claims by negroes that they are arrested for nothing, just take the time to investigate what the fur nuttin is. They will believe, I am sure, that the fur nuttin is loud and profane talk and general behavior becoming on the streets of any town.

Unbridled filth and loud conduct on the streets seem to be in for some consideration on the part of the L.A.W. and negroes might as well make up their collective minds that they must get decent on the streets, or when within hearing of the streets.

OPA Disaster Clause To Be Considered

To set up a formula for quickly determining the degree of loss in the event of a crop disaster in the Florida vegetable industry, will be the objective of a conference in Washington this week between Florida Vegetable Committee and Florida OPA officials and executives of the Office of Price Administration and the War Food Administration.

Loring Raoul of Sarasota, president of the Florida Vegetable Committee, LaMonte Graw, manager of the Committee, and John Ford, secretary of the Florida Farm Bureau, arrived in Washington early in the week to take part in a series of conferences with OPA and WFA, which it is hoped will set up the machinery for action under the new disaster clause in OPA regulations.

The general subject of price ceilings under price regulation, will be thoroughly discussed. "Price ceilings," commented Graw, "will probably be the principal factor in determining what may occur in the future will be planned in Florida during the 1944-45 season."

His Britan Majestys Chillon Get Real Tough

Judge Tedder, Justice of the Peace, sitting as the Coroner, and flanked by States Attorney Sid Catts, couldn't seem to get to the bottom of the affair which ended in a deceased who came to his death, according to Dr. Buck, from one of four wounds any of which would have produced death, in addition to various scars, bruises and contusions.

A double armful of sticks, flash lights, window weights, cane knives, and assorted weapons were piled up to be offered in evidence when the hearing was recessed until Thursday, August 17th.

The testimony brought out only that an awful lot of yelling, thumping and cane movements in the field ended up with one dead American negro and one Jamaican admitting that he had repulsed an attack in his bedroom with a bat used in baseball.

Judging from reports as to the condition of the victims body it seems impossible for a baseball bat to do the damage on a negro's head and one man with one bat would have been busy for a full day inflicting all the wounds he bore.

John and the States Attorney thinks maybe a bit of gum shoeing will bring out some more facts more in keeping with the circumstantial evidence apparent to those not in the know.

Your Lumber Needs By WPB Order L-335

Atlanta, Ga.—D. Leon Wilkins, manager of the regional War Production Board's priorities department, said Tuesday that WPB regulations controlling construction have in no way the L-41 Order are subject to be relaxed, and violations of action by the compliance department.

"Lumber is more critical than at any time in the history of the nation," Mr. Wilkins said, "and its unusual use for non-essential building is diverting large quantities from urgent war needs. The supply is not sufficient to meet all demands."

"Boxing and crating of war goods for overseas shipments call for millions of board feet of lumber, and repairs to docks and military installations as the Allies penetrate deeper into liberated countries requiring almost unbelievable quantities of material. Our reserve stocks have been used up, and we must make every effort to prevent the possibility of being unable to fill a large emergency order from the Armed Forces."

An overall control, WPB Order L-335, which became effective August 1, affects all users of lumber, as well as those who produce and distribute it. The order requires that all lumber be used for war purposes, and that all lumber be used for war purposes, and that all lumber be used for war purposes.

Homeowners who need lumber for any emergency purpose should go to the nearest office of the Federal Housing Agency, which controls all residential construction, and business concerns should apply to their local WPB office for priorities assistance.

We're Not So Bad Off Lissen Here

The Imperial Valley, that acme of perfection, in a lot of minds, in California, pertains to value, vegetables, financing, etc., doesn't compare too much head of the Glades.

The Imperial Valley Authority has just recently refinanced its bonded indebtedness—we're in process of refinancing ours. The Imperial Valley Authority has a total assessed value of $3,000,000; our Everglades Drainage District has a total assessed of $105,000,000.

The I. V. A. bonded indebtedness of $3,000,000; we have a total indebtedness of $4,500,000.

They refinanced at 3 1/2 percent; we are refinancing at 3.25 percent interest.

We have about four million acres in our district; they have something less than 400,000, and they are using close to 100 percent of their lands for farming purposes.

We have more than 500,000 culturable acres in the upper Glades with only about 125,000 actually used.

Our production per acre net compares most favorably with their claims.

The Sugar Corporation has begun an expansion program which may lead to $20,000,000 additional appraised value.

Every time a section of land is improved in a modern manner for Glades farming $50,000 is added to the taxable value of the County.

Children Buy $3,100 'Jeeps' With Savings

Toledo.—America's 30 million school children investing only 50 cents a week in war savings were asked to designate their "Jeeps" for $3,100 of the 200,000 "Jeeps" that have rolled off the Willys-Overland assembly lines, the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department informed officials of the auto concern here.

Summing up the results of a campaign in which the children were asked to designate their "Jeeps" for $3,100 of the 200,000 "Jeeps" that have rolled off the Willys-Overland assembly lines, the War Finance Division of the Treasury Department informed officials of the auto concern here.

Tennis Court And Other Equipment Seem Assured By Commissioners Action

A Committee led by the Lions Club, which included Rotarians, after presenting plans and a proposed scheme of raising additional funds received the assurance of the Town Commission that it would match dollar for dollar whatever funds were raised for park purposes, any overage from the Tennis Court fund to be used for other park purposes.

Since there is already $800 in the fund donated by the Lions and Rotary equally, and because the money raisers seem to think that several hundred more dollars are just waiting for a solicitation, work will be begun immediately on the courts.

A committee of two Lions, two Rotarians and two members of the Commission have been appointed to handle the construction of these courts. It was intimated that handball and basketball might also be included in the plans as they will finally be brought out.

A $800 reinforced concrete court will be built and will set on piling secured in the rock.

Edith VanLandingham Is Wave Recruiter

Mrs. Edith VanLandingham, long prominent in local civic and club affairs, has been appointed a volunteer WAVES recruiter for this city. She succeeds Mrs. Sam J. Fleming.

The appointment was announced today by Specialist Julius L. Waskow of the Navy Recruiting Station, West Palm Beach.

In accepting the appointment, Mrs. VanLandingham joins well over 100 other prominent women in this state who have pledged their assistance to the Navy in the enlistment of young women for the women's reserve. Mrs. VanLandingham has been given complete information on the WAVES program, and all necessary forms for completing applications for enlistment. Interested persons are invited to contact her at her home or by telephoning 8-11-14.

A sister, Elsie Willis, is an ensign in the WAVES, stationed with the Navy at San Bernardino Island, California.

Basic requirements for enlistment in the WAVES, Waskow explained, include two years of high school or business college, age 20-36, and if married, no minor children.

WAVE enlistees are sent to the WAVES school in New York City for basic training. Following this training some are assigned direct to naval shore establishments for the release of men for sea duty, while others are sent to specialty schools for additional training before drawing duty assignment.

Local applicants for the WAVES may also contact the Navy Recruiting Station, post office building, West Palm Beach.

SERVICE MEN who FIGHT and WRITE

PT. CARMON BOONE Private Boone of the Marine Corps stationed at Cherry Point N. C. spent several days here last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Olive Boone.

CPL JUNIUS HARRIS "We are now on French soil and see evidence of a terrific battle everywhere we go. The beaches are littered with junk and it looks like our guns (naval) and our planes had a grudge against the pillboxes that the Germans built for us to practice on. They are all a mass of rubble now. I can tell you right now that the landing boys who made the landings first along with the engineers had to have plenty of guts. The enemy was ready for them and no matter how much big gun support and support from the air they had, it was a job of digging the Nazis out by hand because they were under ground everywhere."

"We have heard a rumble and roar in the air since we arrived and I can hear a banging noise far away right now. Every once in a while you hear a bang not so far away, that's mine or booty trap going off."

"Coming through the towns and villages we are pretty well aware of the enemy's position and we are in surprisingly short time they learn to hold out their hands and say 'Clear the kids pick flowers and pin us on our trucks. A very young ones thinking I suppose that we were more of Hitler's Nastics going by would give us the straight arm salute with a 'Heil Hitler.' The people seem to be pretty well fed here but most of them look pretty worn out. They don't see many teen age boys or girls around. It is a very pretty country."

"This business of camping out gets mighty monotonous after a while. We cooked our meals by sections today and everybody looked like a bunch of hoboes, heating coffee in cans, eating beans from cans and little fire all around. I can remember back in the boy scouts when I did this for fun. The same with sleeping on the ground in a pup tent night after night, rain or shine."

"I don't see how this business can last much longer to save my neck. Any day I look for Germany to break up."

Vacation Bible School Closes

The closing program of the Vacation Bible school was held at the Community Methodist church this morning, terminating the eleventh consecutive session under the management of Rev. J. O. Jameson. 153 pupils enrolled, 45 of which were in the age group eighteen through twenty-five.

The usual courses in handwork, Bible study, music and recreation were held. Outstanding work was accomplished in the Bible memory class, according to Mr. Jameson, and the older pupils of the Intermediate group gave valuable assistance as instructors of the younger pupils.

Jive Dispensers To "Get Hot" At Club Saturday Night

The Club's own unmatched "Jive Dispensers" will oompah, bang, rattle and toot Saturday night for the enjoyment of members and invited friends which includes any men in service uniform.

Pop Lord has just returned from a tour of the more up-to-date Carolina jive sessions and has taken time out to rest, train and practice.

Little Doe just recently returned from a tour of the middle west where he inspected potato fields in between jive sessions and audiences; Neal Depodolis has went to Miami and lower east coast communities to gather up and sort of various jive. This replenishment of the repertoire added to the natural and practiced abilities should provide a din and fuss intelligible to the most incalculable dance next Saturday night at the Country Club of the Everglades.

The jive cats will be accompanied by their wives, except for a few strays, so that a decorous session may be expected to Miami.

Interacial Body Plans Activities

A group of local business and professional men, at the behest of one or two asked themselves "Why shouldn't the whites and negroes get together occasionally to discuss problems common to the purpose of both?" Since common sense and the lack of a contrary reason directed no other course, such a beginning was made.

A preliminary meeting was held Sunday afternoon with half a dozen or more colored business men, preachers and leaders, and further meetings are planned.

No definite action was taken, nor were any definite questions seriously discussed—just a listless session.

What do you suppose were matters broached by the colored members of the "Whites"? It was a request for aid in securing the rampant gambling that has heretofore been prevalent in the area and to the detriment of the community.

The jive cats will be accompanied by their wives, except for a few strays, so that a decorous session may be expected to Miami.

And would you discuss with your colored scratch foreman, or least man on just how best to accomplish a task with his workers? If it works that way, why won't such an organization as this bring lasting benefit to the Community where two races are so dependent on each other?

MARTHA PAFF, 82c Seaman Paff writes from Stillwater, Oklahoma where she is taking her yeoman training with the WAVES that girls in the service far away from home also like to receive letters from their home town friends. She will complete her training at an early date and would like overseas service, but believes there is a possibility that she will be sent to Europe, as well as past, present Naval battles.

In celebration of the WAVES birthday, a special dinner was served with birthday cakes. Their captain and a few of the girls took part in a radio broadcast.

Ralph Freeman Gets Lake Territory

Under the food, fertilizer, gasoline and other inspection of Commissioner Mayo has every body out inspecting about every phase of a Floridian life except his moral.

It has been customary for some time to take gasoline, one to take fertilizer, and one to take miscellaneous groceries. Due to the war conditions and the necessity of curbing the use of gasoline and fertilizer, a special inspection has been devised whereby one man takes them all. Ralph Freeman has been selected to guinea pig with a territory around Lake.

He'll be jumping from fertilizer bins to gas stations to retail food shops.

Ralph has spent several weeks throughout the state with inspectors learning the tricks of a trade.

Major Improvements In Water System Planned By Town Commission

Patience, Politeness And Courtesy Are Not Rationed By The War

Elmer Wheeler, author and lecturer writes interestingly about his "little black book" wherein he is listing discourtesies, insults, impoliteness under the excuse of "There's a war on."

He plans to "take out my little black book note to see whom to do business with—what tailor, laundry, hotel, grocery store, etc."

Mr. Wheeler says the odds are 4-to-1, because most people have only one time to sell and five customers, so four must be told "no." He says take an hour to say "no." Tell your customers a plan by which they must know it already.

"Don't ration patience" despite lack of help, despite lack of merchandise, despite lack of money. He remarks about the airlines writing customers a "I'm sorry" letter when they are bumped off a plane by a high ranking military man.

"Look for familiar faces" and come to them. Don't high tail it. The customer, when you're buying and buying. Maybe you think you're his only limit?

Don't tell that to the men out there doing your fighting. Now's the time to back them up with every bond you can squeeze out cash for. Make a few sacrifices. Give up a few comforts. But get those bonds—and hold 'em! This time it's up to you. And you can do it!

Of course no business owner in Belle Glade could tolerate such "boners" as are outlined above, but it is well to keep up with what the outside world has put up with. My fingers are crossed.

In 1937 the PWA, represented by a bunch of high powered experts came into Belle Glade and said, "Now you country boys need a water plant and we have signed one here to last you for ten years to come. We will give some of the money, and will lend you the balance. Now get going, you boys and maybe within ten years we'll be back to help you along some more."

In 1939 PWA had another plan, and said "Here's what you need. You boys have run off the second page of this book. There's nothing to discuss, you must do what you are doing. You've outgrown that two year old water plant designed to last ten years. Here's our plan to double the size of that plant and give you a bit more money and lend you some more."

That was done—the plant increased to double its capacity. The smart boys said "Well, that's what you want, just what you need for good. You don't know that a away—it ain't in the book."

In 1944—Five years since the "smart boys" had us filed away back in 1940 or 1941. We have caught on to that doubling of the plant. We have our water plant to double the 1939 experts size, and it isn't big enough now. It needs to be enlarged to four times its original size for present customers clamoring for more water or who want to get out of town.

We have taken on the U. S. government in three places—two military camps had a hospital. We have taken on the State government in one place, the Experiment Station, and another branch of the prison farm—is hastily working out details to get hooked on with a 6-inch main. The U. S. Sugar Corporation is desperately trying to get water to their Clewiston Camp.

The boys who wrote "the book" are tearing their hair, or rubbing a bald pate, cause it ain't in the book.

Just as a side remark, South Bay has been under a good water could be gotten from Belle Glade.

Now we just got more business than we can care for, and can't take care of the cannng plant's needs.

If we got a paying business, and demands for more business with good cash customers—the Federal government, State government, and the U. S. Sugar Corporation, besides our own individual citizens.

We have 810 meters now, and need 1,000, most likely. This business of ours showed a net profit of $16,058.71 for the nine months ending July 1st, 1944.

Vote To Be Held Simultaneously With Regular Election On August 12

Miami is considering coming to Lake Okechobee, a distance of some 75 miles addition to the present expanse of its lines, for water for its cattle.

Belle Glade is considering going to Lake Okechobee for it water, a matter of some three miles.

Belle Glade is considering additions to its present plant to care for present needs—it must also consider the same situations to take care of added large volume customers, as well as the natural growth of its demands.

To do this, there must be more money, and it must be borrowed.

The acceptable way of borrowing money is by a bond issue—and municipal borrowings are at a low rate of interest now.

Your water works is a $150,000 business, with a total of $250,000 or a net worth of $92,000. Not a bad business with a business of practically nothing in 1937.

In addition to a continual gain in capital assets your water business is making money—money. It has met every interest and principal payment, all current bills and added materially to the facilities for giving you water.

Let's Lead The Procession

Surveys are being made over the nation for the purpose of determining postwar demands for air express and air freight. When one looks at a map showing the design for America's worldwide air routes, the importance of such preparation and coordination of the facilities to be offered the public becomes self evident.

According to postwar plans now on paper, the United States expects that its international airlines will fly 140,000 miles, 60,000 of those miles over new routes, here, before the war, passengers were the principal load, it is expected that air express and freight will add tremendously to the future cargo of the airlines.

Just as an example to illustrate the possibilities, air express handled through LaGuardia field during May, averaged more than 1,000 shipments a day, a 27.8 per cent increase over May, 1943. For the five-month period, January to May, at the same airport, express shipments increased 23 per cent over 1943.

Fortunately, the United States has express facilities in almost every hamlet, which, under a coordinated pick-up and delivery system, are rendering universal service that can be extended to meet any future air developments for either passenger or cargo shipments, as this war has so dramatically demonstrated.

Price Stabilizers

Deliveries that will permit rapid turn-over, labels that will sell merchandise, and the reinstatement of advertising allowances, are among the requests by chain and supermarkets of manufacturers of food products, for the postwar period.

A survey indicates that such manufacturers should make prompt postwar deliveries in as large or small quantities as the buyer desires, and at lowest prices, to permit rapid turnover, and that labels should be designed to give them life in a modern store. Also, chains and supermarkets want each package to have white space on top to stamp price.

In the reinstatement of advertising contracts, which have been discontinued during the war, the survey records chain and supermarket operators as asking manufacturers who cooperated in advertising campaigns in the past, to do so in the future.

The chain stores in all fields, including grocery, variety and dry good groups, will be a powerful influence in stabilizing prices and bringing back the quality and variety of goods which American consumers will seek at the end of the war. Advertising will play an important role in re-establishing markets disrupted by the war emergency.

An Opportunity For Progress

The United States Public Health Service has been given authority to make grants-in-aid for medical research in public or private institutions, increase appropriations to states engaged in general public health work, establish a national tuberculosis program and foster preventative medicine.

It would seem that such cooperation by the government with both public and private agencies is one of its legitimate functions in carrying out any public health program. It is not compulsory, but it does provide a basis for coordinating the medical facilities of this nation, and making the results of medical education, research and practice available to individuals, doctors and hospitals in every city and rural community.

If the hand of politics can be kept out of the United States Public Health Service it can be the focal point for encouraging rapid strides in progressive American medicine.

Coordinating public and private health activities for the benefit of all the people, without destroying the initiative of American medicine by creating a national medical monopoly and compulsory medical practices, is the goal that must be kept in sight.

If there is any agency of government that should cooperate with all health agencies, it is the United States Public Health Service. Let us hope that it will be its policy and that private medicine may work with it with a feeling of security rather than fear.

Something Really New

Over 17,000,000 American homes are heated today by stoves.

For about as many centuries as we know, mankind's primary wants have been: palatable food, a comfortable mate, shelter and bodily warmth.

As to heat, Benjamin Franklin observed that there had been almost no progress for 2,000 years and put together his famous idea in home heating.

But at last a new stove that is really a furnace is here—a stove that one can forget for a week in moderate winter weather—that burns up its own smoke—that whacks one-third off the coal bill for a starter—that can heat an entire bungalow snugly—that will cost less than a hundred dollars—that is ready for postwar use.

This new departure in heating embraces the most radical and revolutionary principles that have ever been advanced for economical comfort for the great bulk of American homes. It has been developed by the titanous coal industry's best technical minds, co-operating with leading United States manufacturers of heating equipment.

CINEMATIC CHATTER

By Malcolm Millar

One of the finest comedy teams, ideally mated, in pictures today, comes to the Everglades Theatre with the Sunday-Monday screening of "Standing Room Only." This team is Paulie and Fred, played by Paulie and Fred, and they are ably supported by such noted players as Edward Arnold, Billie Burke, and Roland Young, Anne Revere, and many others. The story is a hoot. The acting is superb and the direction is faultless.

There's another double feature this Tuesday-Wednesday. First one up is Warner Baxter in "Crime Doctors Strangers Case." In support of Baxter are Lynn Merrick, Barton MacLane, Jerome Cowan, Reginald Denny, and Rose Hobart, all talented people and turning in very hand-some performances. Story and plot are a murder mystery which gives the snuffs of the audience a chance to exercise the $64 question.

On the same program comes a picture that is different than the usual run and the plot and story sound very interesting. This one is "Lady in the Death House," and stars and features Jean Parker, Lionel Atwill, Douglas Fowley and a nice roster of lesser lights. Picture is listed as very good. Let us hope so.

On Thursday-Friday brings "Hoplike Kate," which is listed as excellent and stars and features Ann Savage, Tom Neal, Glenda Farrell and many others. It's a story of that famous country of wealth and rugged front-gambling, dance hall gangs and exciting adventure and one I am sure you'll like.

On this same program is a very interesting "March of Time," the subject being "Un-derground Report." This one is said to give an excellent report of the activities of this vibrant body of men, women and children who have contributed so much toward the Victory that we now see in the very near dis-

FOR YOUR CAR, TOO!

You can give your car the same protection against wear that the Army gives many of its "Jeeps," tanks and other vehicles. Just see your nearby Sinclair Dealer. He has Sinclair lubricants of the same quality used by the U. S. Army.

To save wear on your engine, ask for Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Opaline stands up better and lasts longer because it is de-waxed and de-jellied. Have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Opaline every 1,000 miles.

TIE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Good morning, Doc. Your good wife tells me you're working night and day now that so many of the younger doctors are in the army." "That's right, Judge, and I'm glad I'm still able to do it. Had a long letter from Harry... that bright young fellow I was bringing in to take over my practice. He said the boys in the service are getting the best medical care of any armed force in our history. They really should with all those brilliant doctors and plenty of supplies to work with." "Speaking of supplies, Doc, not many people realize that a large part of the alcohol required to make the medical supplies that are being used right this minute to alleviate pain, combat infection and save human lives, is produced by the beverage distilling industry. For nearly two years this entire industry has been working night and day producing nothing but alcohol for the government's program." "Nobody knows better than I, Judge, what an important contribution to our war effort that has been."

Conserve Your Trucks If You Want A New One

Operators of commercial motor vehicles were warned by the Miami District Office of Defense Transportation yesterday that the manner in which they operate and maintain their vehicles in conformity with good maintenance practices may be a factor in determining whether or not they are entitled to new equipment.

There continues to be evidence that many motor trucks and motor trucks are being abused and prematurely worn out by some truck operators even though the great majority of operators are doing a very good job in conserving their equipment, T. B. McGahey, ODT District Manager at Miami, said.

The Farmers' Contribution to Financing the War

By B. M. Gile
Head, Dept. of Agricultural Economics
Louisiana State University

FARMERS are buying War Bonds to help make it possible for the armed forces to defeat the enemy. The farmers have shown that they are willing to make as many sacrifices as any other group in order to win the war.

In proportion to their net incomes, they have continued to purchase their share of the important resources for obtaining money or credit to finance the conduct of the war.

While farmers would help finance the war for patriotic reasons alone, fortunately War Bonds also serve to help them accomplish certain personal welfare goals. Among these goals are the future security of their farm and the accumulation of funds for the purchase of a new farm or the purchase of a new house.

During the war, at least half of the productive effort in industry is being used to produce the instruments used for fighting. This means a shortage of goods available for civilian purposes, both for production and consumption. Farm machinery, buildings, fencing materials that are depreciating and wearing out with use cannot be replaced at the usual rate. The ability to bring in as good a standard of living as we have under wartime conditions is to a considerable extent explained by the fact that we had acquired durable capital goods before the war which are being used in production during the war.

By purchasing War Bonds with the money which normally would be used for replacements, savings are provided for reserves which can be used after the war to purchase new machinery, buildings and fencing materials not available now.

There is also an income which would be normally spent for durable consumption goods. By spending as little as possible now, farmers help to prevent further inflation in the prices paid for the instruments used in production. The upward spiral of land prices, the price of new machinery, buildings and fencing materials will be prevented.

While we hope that farm prices will not continue to rise indefinitely, it is certain that wartime prices will not continue indefinitely after the war ends. Many farmers are wisely investing in such products as their wartime cash income. War bonds are a prudent investment to protect the cash income. It is a possible loss of income period some of the cash income. It is a possible loss of income period some of the cash income. It is a possible loss of income period some of the cash income.

For the farmer, War Bonds are an excellent means for creating a reserve for the down payment on a new farm, when more farms are for sale at normal prices. The farmer who has accumulated his operating capital and is ready to buy a farm at a will do better to remain a tenant a few years longer. The increased cost of land rents when prices of farm products are at high levels in small compared to the capital losses on a 160-acre farm that the purchase price, due to lower prices for farm products. It requires a good part of the production lifetime for most people to pay $100 for about 100 bushels of wheat. In any event, it is a serious matter for anyone to lose the savings accumulated from many years of production effort. This did happen to many thousands of both farm and non-farm families during the drastic decline in prices which followed the war.

As contrasted with the last war, farmers are following sounder financial methods. More of them are aware of the truth that prices will rise after the war. They are buying, and that prices are low when the price of new machinery, buildings and fencing materials are low. They are buying, and that prices are low when the price of new machinery, buildings and fencing materials are low.

If credit is used to gain ownership control over land or any durable production goods at materially higher prices than in the past, the farmer is in a tight spot. A relatively short time, a year or two at most, in general it would be advisable to incur only short-term debts which can be paid before prices fall. War Bonds furnish a convenient investment medium for farm families who wish to follow a prudent financial policy.

MAJOR IMPROVEMENTS

(Continued from page one) maximum bond issue of $200,000. Of course only that part that is necessary will be issued. Out of this $200,000, the old bonds of $27,000 of the old bonds will be bought in, and whatever is spent will be used in adding to our facilities. In other words, our assets will be increased by that much or more.

Another thing, did you know that approximately $15,000 worth of bottled water is sold in this community? A greater part of this will be eliminated when we have secured palatable and clear Lake water.

If you're not sold on the desirability and business sense of getting a modern water plant and getting your water from the most desirable place in South Florida, just think what Miami is planning—coming to Lake Okechobee.

We'd like to hear objections if you can think of any.

Telephone Lines to the Front

As battles roll on to victory and vast new areas are conquered, the need for thousands of miles of telephone equipment becomes more and more urgent.

Since the start of the war the huge telephone manufacturing plants of the Bell System have been concentrating on the manufacture of telephone equipment for war use exclusively, to insure that there shall be no shortages of telephone equipment for the war effort.

Just before war started, the Southern Bell Company completed a large program of expansion of central office and outside plant facilities. This enabled us to continue installing telephones after the manufacture of telephone equipment for civilian use had stopped.

Now, however, the normal reserves of switchboards, wire, and other equipment have been used up, and we have many people on waiting lists for service. But war's needs must come first, and some time we at home shall continue to make the most and the best use of what we now have.

LITTLE THINGS... about the stars

By GEORGE LILLEY
NEW YORK, N. Y. — Smart stars never go high hat. They realize glittering names in radio and snow business are made, not born. Frank Sinatra, it is said, when he made it to California in the midst of the bobby sox craze, his press agents had the sleeves of his coat first removed, then fastened in loose, so that his fans grabbed his sleeves. They tore off. That's a "good" thing, they say.

SINATRA... week scribes for the papers and helps to make swoon kings.

Swing King, Benny Goodman when he was "coming up" used artificial enthusiasm. Agents say he took 50 cents to dance to music in the aisles of theaters... and gave them the idea and soon they were dancing in the aisles. 100-for nothing! Said Metropolitan Opera stars say or bring in friends to clap for them. They call them clappers. But nobody who uses clappers admits they do it.

Also about Sinatra. Press agents encourage that unruly girl, Frank doesn't like it. But his agents think it makes him look "so boyish." Frank is 30. Announcers like to make stars look young. The other night an announcer called bandleader Frankie Carle "our young, smiling pianist." Frank makes no bones about it. Next March he will be 42. Why do announcers do it?

Few listeners know that "Buck" colored maid of the Fibber McGee and Molly radio series is female, not colored. "She" is a husky, 32-foot male actor named Martin Flint. He is credited as the only female impersonator in the time radio unless you color Tommy Ruggs voice of "Betty Hutton" to good use. Negro male impersonator proposed marriage
